Summary

We welcome 23 new participants to Oregon Listing Results this year. Thank you to all the 136 birders who submitted numbers. I have carried forward records from 158 other birders, plus 23 deceased birding friends. These Listing Results include the efforts of 317 birders over many years.

Notable Statewide Achievements

Two more birders passed the mark of 400 species in Oregon: Wink Gross and Diana Byrne. Seventy birders have now reached that mark.

The top Oregon Life List stands at 498 species (Jeff Gilligan). The highest state year list for 2017 was 345 species (Will Wright).

Participation in the Birds Photographed in Oregon category increased to 58 people. Tom Crabtree tops that list with 438 species.

John Sullivan tops the Motorless Life List with 298. Andy Frank tops the Motorless Year List with 210. These categories saw 23 and 9 participants, respectively.

The Western Oregon and Eastern Oregon Life List categories grew to 21 and 17 participants, respectively. Paul Sullivan tops the Western Oregon list at 409 and Tom Crabtree the Eastern Oregon list at 383.

Notable County Listing Achievements

Two more birders reached the goal of 100 species in each of Oregon's 36 counties: Jay Withgott and Gloria Beerman. Twenty-three people have now reached that goal.

Yard Life List (106 participants)

106 yard lists were submitted, representing a variety of sizes, habitats, and duration of observation. Everyone's yard list is a notable achievement, no matter the number of species.

Congratulations to all of you and to everyone who participated!

A special thank you to Mary Schrock, Karan Fairchild, and Tom Mickel for finding the list numbers of departed friends Floyd Schrock, Ulo Kiigemagi, and Deb Holland, respectively. Too often the numbers that people worked hard for get lost. It is good to get their final tallies.

Thank you to all who submitted Listing Results this year. We hope to hear from even more of our friends next year.

Good birding, everyone,

Paul T. Sullivan
